are full of the most desirable of offerings to a discriminating trading public. Our stocks are large and well selected; they are fresh and clean; especially do we call attention to our line of hardware, which is a fine and complete stock of the very latest things in hardware. This is the season when tools are needed, and we offer you the World's best -- "DIAMOND EDGE." None are so reliable.

KANT-BE-BEAT CLOTHING is in a class to itself; it is low enough in price to appeal to your pocket-book, while it is high enough in quality to be what you want to buy, and every garment will please as time rolls on; the styles are up-to-date.

IN SHOES we handle exclusively, the famous "Peters Diamond Brand" for Men, Women and Children. Our leaders are CORKER shoes for boys, the sort that stands the wear. CHAMPION for men, RINGER for children, and DIAMOND SPECIAL for ladies; they are all honestly made, of good leather, and they are just what we say they are when you buy them.

OUR SALE STABLE carries a nice line of FLORENCE WAGONS, the steady dependable sort, made like the old time wagons, to last and run easy, and the celebrated CARMICHAEL Buggies, made of second growth hickory. We can serve you well on a buy or trade.

We want to please you, and we will do it if you want good values, close prices and fair treatment. Come to see us.

We buy cotton and sell fertilizers.

Some Revenue Figures.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The United States has just passed a banner year for drinks and smokes and oleomargarine. Here is the nation's record for twelve months ended on June 30 as it shows in the figures of the internal revenue bureau.

168,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits—80,000,000 gallons more than the year before.

59,485,177 barrels of fermented liquors—an increase of 80,000,000 7,600,000 cigars—160,000,000 more than 1909.

6,830,000 cigars—an increase of a solid billion.

402,000,000 pounds of plug, fine cut, cube cut, granulated, cased smoking or chewing tobacco, or snuff—4,000,000 pounds more than the year before.

141,862,282 pounds of oleomargarine—an increase of 50,000,000 pounds.

Illicit distilling and other manufacturing of moonshine whiskey—on the increase "especially," the bureau says, "where there are Statewide prohibition laws."

The internal revenue receipts on all these things—and certain other things, such as playing cards and mixed flour, amounted to more than $280,000,000 and Commissioner Cabell's organization collected it all at a cost of about $5,000,000. It cost a penny and a little more than seven mills to collect each dollar.

From Haymon.

FOLLY-BOLAND.

An interesting event of Sunday the beautiful marriage of Miss Irene Boland and Mr. William Foley. Mr. C. C. Fleming, of Curtis performed the ceremony.

The marriage was at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Boland.

Many beautiful and elegant gifts were shown which bespeak the love and esteem of many friends. The bride is one of Haymon's loveliest daughter, a woman of noble, earnest purpose. The groom a man of sterling business qualities and very highly esteemed.

Mr. and Mrs. Foley left on Monday for Elba, their future home, where Mr. Foley holds a responsible position with Clark and Patrick. He has many friends who extend him congratulations in winning such a charming and lovable young lady for his wife. The well wishes of hosts of friends go with them to their new home.

Burglars in Elba.

Last night burglars entered the store of Smith & Winston in West Elba near the depot.

Entrance was made through a window and a good many things such as overcoats, shoes, hats, shirts, collars and ties were taken.

Paper was found burned all over the floor and it is supposed that it was used for light. The burglars wore about a number 7 shoe and were tracked across the street from the store.

Later—it is learned that a convict escaped from Richburg last night and has been tracked to the store, and it is thought that he and others took part in the stealing. A liberal reward is out for his capture.

Mr. Bige Windham Dead.

Last Sunday evening Mr. Bige Windham died at the home of his son, W. S. Windham, near Damascus, of old age. He was buried yesterday with Masonic honors by Elba Lodge No. 170, of which he was a member.

Mr. Windham was born in Dale county near Ozark and would have been 77 years of age, had he lived till February. He was a gallant Confederate soldier, and always took part in public affairs.

He has been for a good many years an active member of the Baptist Church at Damascus.

He leaves to mourn his death a wife and the following children: Mrs. G. G. of Samson, Mrs. Ida Kimmey, Messrs J. S., W. P., and T. P. Windham, of Elba, and Messrs D. H. and W. S. Windham of beat 18.

To them we extend our deepest sympathy.

Jail For Harlan, Et Als.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Sentences of imprisonment imposed upon W. S. Hilton and S. E. Huggins of Alabama, on peonage conspiracy charges were allowed to stand as legal today by the Supreme Court of the United States.

These were the first convictions under the recent crusade of the Federal Government against peonage.

W. S. Harlan, general manager of Jackson Lumber Company, with mills mill near Lockhart, Ala., was arrested in 1906 together with C. C. Hilton and S. E. Huggins, employed at the mills, on charge of conspiracy to commit the statutory offense of "peonage."

They were accused specifically of having conspired to arrest and to return to the timber camp of the company a Hungarian named Rudolph Launiger, to work out an indebtedness alleged to be due by him to the company.

Harlan was convicted and sentenced to serve eighteen months at hard labor in the Atlanta penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000; Hilton and Huggins each to thirteen months and pay a fine of $1,000.

The cases were brought to the court on an appeal from the refusal of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Florida to release on writs of habeas corpus.

In a second case, Robert Gallagher, logging superintendent of Jackson Company, was convicted on a similar charge and sentenced to fifteen months in the penitentiary and pay a fine of $1,000. He too, vainly sought release on habeas corpus.

If our people are to measure up to these possibilities, and are to restore our State and the South to the commanding position befitting our resources, we must first have a people who are prepared to reap the benefit of this great world event, which will open up a new era for the South.

From Mr Hobson

My fellow Alabamians: I wish to enlist your cooperation in a movement of supreme importance to our state, that of improving education in country districts.

Under our present system Alabama has dropped to a class by herself below the bottom of all the states. Comparative figures compiled for the years 1908-1909 show that Alabama's total funds for public schools are less than half the funds of Arkansas, are over $1,000,000 less than those of Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and Georgia. The figures show that we devoted out $3.86 for each child of school age for the year 1909, while the average for the nine other Southern States was $3.62, nearly 50% more than for Alabama; the average in the United States being $12.89, over five times as much. They show that on Education we spend but 18 cents per $100.00 of our real property, while the average for the nine other Southern States was 21 cents, or 61 per cent more in proportion to wealth, and for the whole country it was 25 cents nearly twice as much. The figures further show that Alabama's great lacking is in county and local funds, the very funds which in the raising create interest and pride, the total funds from all county and local sources in Alabama doing but 88% of the total while in the other Southern States this average is over 72%.

These astounding figures show how our system in Alabama is impoverishing our country schools and sapping their vitality, and is thus striking at the very root and foundation of our prosperity and our greatness.

The consequences are already appalling. Deaths from typhoid fever, dysentery, malaria, hook worm disease, anaemia and similar diseases resulting from ignorance have gone up to nearly double the average for the rest of the country. Our farmers have been selling their inheritance to outsiders, parting with their precious iron lands, coal lands, timber lands, for a mere song, simply because they do not know any better. Unless the standard of education is raised among our farmers, they will soon be dispossessed of their farm lands and thus complete their disinheritation by outsiders who possess an education.

No time can be lost. The boll weevil has crossed the State line, if we would avoid incalculable loss and a heavy depreciation of our already depreciated farm lands, our whole system of farming must be fundamentally changed.

The Panama Canal will be open in a few years, and the eyes of the world will be turned upon the South. We must hasten the work of education among the masses of our people, if they are to be prepared to reap the benefit of this great world event, which will open up a new era for the South.

ing our Anglo-Saxon blood, and if we are to fulfil our destiny, and cause Southern ideals and devotion to principle, once more to become the determining factors in moulding American institution then we must hasten the proper education of the masses of our people who live on the farms.

Unfortunately the Constitution of State now stands in the way, forbidding under all circumstances, our country school districts from levying taxes for school purposes. Towns and cities can levy such taxes to properly educate their children, but the farmers are forbidden the same right, though this right is a fundamental part of the right of local self-government. No other state in the Union, no other civilized community in the world has such an iniquitous law. Our rural schools being approved by the Constitution of any adequate vital support, are, as a result, in a languishing condition.

I ask your hearty cooperation in the effort to remove this first great obstacle. Will you not counter with your members of both Houses of the Legislature, in person or by letter, and ask them to use their influence to have a proper amendment authorizing district taxation for school purposes to be submitted by the coming session of the Legislature to a vote by the people, not later than next fall?

I should be glad if you write to me here or to the State Superintendent of Education at Montgomery, your own views, and the result of your efforts of cooperation.

With good wishes, I remain, Faithfully yours, R. F. Hobson.

Residence Burned.

Sunday night about 11 o'clock the residence of Mr. J. N. Sawyer in West Elba, was destroyed by fire. It is supposed the fire caught from a defective chimney.

The fire company responded immediately but the flames had gained so much headway that it was impossible to save the building. Only a small amount of the contents were saved.

We learn that a small amount of insurance was carried. The residence of Mr. George Collier was also slightly damaged by the fire.

24 GIRLS DEAD IN FACTORY FIRE

Horror Occurs in Box Factory in New Jersey.

FIFTY SENT TO HOSPITALS

Flames Sprang With Rush and the Trapped Girls Began to Leap From Windows of Factory—Some Were Caught in Life Nets.

In ten minutes twenty-four girls were burned alive in Newark, N. J., or crushed to death on the pavement in leaping from the windows and fire escapes of the four-story brick paper box factory at Orange and High streets. Sixteen of the twenty-four bodies recovered have been identified and six girls are still missing. They may be among the unidentified or they may be in the ruins.

Fifty were taken to hospitals, two of whom may die. Among the injured is Joseph E. Sloane, deputy fire chief, who was caught by the falling wall and buried in bricks and rubbish. He is badly hurt, but may recover.

The rush of flames was so incredibly swift and threw such unreasoning terror into the huddled working girls on the top story, that the body of one was found still seated on a chair which she had been busy when the first cry of "Fire" petrified her with fright.

The building was extremely inflammable and the first rush of flames cut off all possible escape by the stairways. The elevators made one trip, but took down no passengers. The only exit was by two narrow fire escapes, the lower platform of which was twenty-five feet from the street. Onto these overcrowded and steep ladders, ascribed with heat from lower windows, pressed forward a mob of women, blind with panic, driven by the fire and the others behind them.

A net had been spread beneath the windows and the girls began to jump "like rats out of a burning bin" was the way a fireman described the pell mail descent.

TURKEY BONE CAUSED DEATH.

Fatal Thanksgiving Dinner in a Brooklyn Home.

Gertrude Goldstein, a 10-year-old Brooklyn girl, is dead in her home as the result of swallowing a turkey bone with her Thanksgiving day dinner.

The bone lodged in her esophagus and could not be extricated. Her violent coughing merely stirred the bone and its sharp end finally pierced the wall of the esophagus, causing great pain. The girl's mother, to alay her suffering, gave her some tea to drink, but the beverage leaked through the aperture in the gullet and trickled down into the lung. The child became unconscious almost at once and died without having regained consciousness.

DR. WARREN DIES.

Rector of Trinity Church, New Orleans, Passes Away.

Rev. Dr. Beverley E. Warner, rector of Trinity church of New Orleans, and one of the best known Episcopal clergymen of the country, died at his home in that city Sunday. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure, following a brief attack of la grippe. The announcement from Trinity pulpit to the congregation that their pastor was dead brought forth a touching manifestation of grief, men and women weeping audibly.

Dr. Warner was born in Jersey City, N. J., October 14, 1855. He was ordained a minister of the Protestant Episcopal church in 1879. He was for some years rector of St. Stephen's church in Philadelphia, and had been pastor of Trinity church, New Orleans, for many years. In addition to his attainments in the church, Dr. Warner was well known as an author on literary and sociological topics. Among his writings are: "Troubled Waters," a novel; "English History in Shakespeare's Plays," and "The Young Man in Modern Life."

WIFE MURDERED.

Bodies of Two Boys Found in Carolina Swamps.

Guy Rogers and Frontis Moore, aged 15 and 11, respectively, went hunting Thanksgiving day in the swamps of the Pee Dee river, near Bennettsville, S. C., and later their bodies were found in a ditch near their buggy. They had been murdered.

Circuit court was adjourned and practically the entire population of Bennettsville engaged in search for the assassins of the late Rogers. Rogers was the son of the county treasurer.

Annual conference of Alabama
Methodist Church will convene at Troy to-morrow.

North Alabama Methodist conference reports 600 new members added to the Church during the past year.

Alabama may stand at the foot of all the states as to per capita school appropriations, but it seems to us that any one could get a common school education here if they want it. This is certainly true as to Coffee county.

We publish to-day a communication from Representative R. P. Hobson in regard to a proposed amendment to the constitution. Whether we agree with all of Mr. Hobson's conclusions or not, we must agree that the people of any district should be allowed to tax themselves for school purposes if they want to do so, and that is all the amendment will do.

She promulgated some sort of healing and saving that no one has ever been able to explain or understand, yet a million or more good people profess to believe and practice. She has seen the membership of her church grow from one to a million, in one twentieth of the time it took the church founded by Christ to reach that number. Most remarkable of all she was able to write a book duller than the Mormon Bible and sell a million copies.

Rev. H. B. Urquhart left at noon today for Troy to attend the conference of the Methodist Church. He carried a splendid report of the condition of his church here, the work that has been done during the past year and that which is now being done. Mr. Urquhart is a splendid preacher and pastor, and the work he has accomplished here during the past year is proof positive of his skill as a manager.

A Word of Appreciation.

Our church year closed with last Sunday, and I will be away this week at Conference.

I desire to express a word of thanks and appreciation to the public at large for their generous co-operation and kindness throughout the year. I have labored for you, I thank you for the Methodist church as an aggressive and powerful factor in the Kingdom of God.

I rejoice to be able to submit for your encouragement the following resume of the year's work, to-wit: expended for all purposes $4169.00; members received 14; adults baptized 2; infants baptized 1; one Junior League organized with about 35 members; one handsome new church now nearing completion, and to crown the year's labors I am authorized by the board of stewards to request the Conference to raise Elba to a full station having services every Sunday, the additional expenses for this forward movement being now well arranged for in advance.

I give you these items of interest that you may rejoice with.

11,445,000 BALES.

Final Estimate Made by New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A total of the Times-Democrat for the cotton crop of 1910, as based on reports from correspondents throughout the cotton belt, relates to the actual growth of the year and is exclusive of lint, repacks, etc.

By states the crop is given as follows:

Alabama	1,165,000
Arkansas	700,000
Georgia and Florida	1,825,000
Louisiana	265,000
Mississippi	1,250,000
North Carolina	700,000
Oklahoma	900,000
Tennessee	800,000
Texas	2,320,000

Correspondents say that farmers have little to sold freely, as a rule, but are inclined to hold the remnant.

GOVERNORS MEET AT FRANKFORT, KY.

Important Gathering of State Executives.

THIRD CONFERENCE HELD

Frankfort, Kentucky's Capital, Entertains Distinguished Men of the Nation in Most Important Gathering in Years.

The third conference of governors, one of the most notable gatherings of the world, began at Frankfort, Ky., when Governor Wilson welcomed the chief executives to the Blue Grass State. Mayor Polk then welcomed them to their capital. Gov. J. P. Threlkeld, of Rhode Island, responded and Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, spoke on the possibilities of the conference.

Never before has Kentucky had such a gathering within her confines and an effort was made to have the visitors make speeches, officiate at corner stone layings and other functions. The Democrats wanted to give a banquet to the visitors of their party, and like plans were made by the Republicans. Governor Wilson soon put a stop to such plans, however.

Aside from the entertainment between sessions, Governor Wilson left nothing interfere with the program, particularly in a political way. Each governor was met by a personal escort and taken in an automobile, which was at his disposal during his stay, to one of Frankfort's palatial homes. At noon a luncheon was given and shortly after 2 o'clock the first session was held in Kentucky's new state capitol.

The city entertained its guests on a scale befitting the state's reputation for hospitality.

COL. WETMORE KILLED.

He Was Democratic National Committeeman from Missouri.

Colonel Moses C. Wetmore, democratic national committeeman for Missouri, and chairman of the finance committee of the national democratic organization, died at St. Louis, following injuries he sustained as the result of being run over by a wagon. His injuries consisted of concussion of the brain and a fractured shoulder.

Colonel Wetmore was active in politics for many years. He made a large fortune as a tobacco manufacturer. His opposition to the tobacco trust is said to have cost him $500,000. His company was finally absorbed.

Colonel Wetmore was a bachelor, 64 years old.

CAUGHT IN QUICKSAND.

Fearful Experience of Gilbert Stephens Near New York.

Gilbert Stephens is under the care of physicians in his home in Silver Lake Park, New York, and may be weeks in recovering from the shock of a long battle with death in quicksand.

Stephens had taken a short cut homeward and stumbled into a depression which was formerly the bed of a small lake. The place is widely known as spotted with dangerous quicksands and Stephens found himself in the grip of one of them. The more he struggled to get out the deeper he went in. For two hours he shouted for help, but finally his voice was silenced by the mud which rose above his shoulders and pressed on his lungs so that he could hardly breathe.

The quicksand had reached his chin and was pulling him slowly, but surely, to death by suffocation, when William Piscile, a town constable, who was out duck shooting, saw him and came running to his rescue. Piscile hurriedly picked up an armful of brush and sticks which he threw out on top of the quicksand. This gave him a foothold and he reached down to Stephens, tying the straps of his gunbag beneath the helpless man's shoulders. After a long struggle he dragged the prisoner out and laid him down exhausted on the shore of the lake.

WHOLE FAMILY POISONED.

Oysters in Turkey Dressing Thought to Have Been Cause.

Five persons in the family of F. W. Gibson, residing in Mobile, Ala., including his negro cook, were poisoned from eating oysters and had a narrow escape from death.

They ate turkey stuffed with oysters left over from the Thanksgiving dinner and soon afterward suffered excruciating agony for several hours, and it was only by heroic treatment that their lives were saved.

Gibson is chief clerk of the United Fruit Company in this city.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

"The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. Time the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this result indigestion, piles, nervousness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use in giving 'pills' and things of that kind until you have first secured the normal action of the bowels. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day, all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good laxative, such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and you will find that your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take strong cathartics or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant remedy as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

You can obtain a bottle of your drug-gist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either size may be the better for normal, healthy care. Thousands of women keep it regularly in their houses and no longer be without it as it cures them and keeps them well. It is sold by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, and it costs but five cents. It is the best of all laxatives, and it is as effective as any other, and it is the only one that is safe and healthy. It will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the bowels or lower bowels in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address to a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. W. Caldwell, 1116 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.
